One of the biggest benefits of getting paid to take surveys (aside from the obvious) is that it doesn't conflict with your work day.

it conflicting with your work day.

You may have to fit certain criteria in order to be eligible for various surveys

. When you set up your profile, make sure you thoroughly answer any questionnaires and fill in empty fields. The more complete your profile is the more opportunities you'll receive to complete surveys. You can start and stop a survey whenever you want. Just note that you won't receive any points (or rewards) unless you complete the survey fully.

Survey Junkie says you can make up to $40 per month if you complete around three surveys each day. You can redeem points earned via surveys through PayPal or bank transfer or request gift cards to places like Amazon or Target.

Like Survey Junkie, you'll also earn points, which can be redeemed for gift cards or PayPal cash, for taking surveys on Swagbucks. There's also an opportunity for cash-back shopping at thousands of participating retailers and exclusive deals offered to Swagbucks members.

Here are some options you can participate in to earn Swagbucks points:

According to Swagbucks, most members can earn anywhere between $50 to $200 a month, depending on their efforts.

It works just like the other sites: You create a free login, answer a few questions about yourself and then start taking surveys for points. You can take an unlimited number of surveys, as long as you're qualified and eligible to take them.
