Their Photo(s) Seem Too Perfect

While there are certainly models who use dating profiles, it's suspicious for profile pictures to look like photoshoots. Be sure your prospective date isn't just using stock images. A quick reverse search can let you know if the picture is on other sites.

They Have a Suspicious Number of Connections

You should be able to hold "normal" conversations with your connections. Chats riddled with significantly poor grammar or disjointed conversations are probably not who they claim to be from.

Most laptops, computers, and smart devices come equipped with some sort of camera that enables users to make video calls. If someone frequently refuses to video chat despite you two talking for a significant time, it may be that they have something to hide.

If something seems too good to be true, it probably is. Although some celebrities interact with their friends through social media platforms, they typically don't reach out to fans they stumble upon online.

Typically, nothing bad comes from matching with a fake profile. These users will see only the information publicly available to anyone you match with. You do not need to worry about the type of information you leak to them through your messages.

Delete them from your profile as soon as you realize they are fake.
