In a run through a demo version with a $3 imaginary wager on the line, a player hand was Ace-2 and the dealer showed a 10.

The player could just play the hand as dealt with hit, stand or double down options, but also could either buy a replacement for the 2 for $1.

After hitting King-4 against King and drawing a 2, the display said the player could pay 62 cents to exchange the King, 49 cents to exchange the 4 or 23 cents to exchange the 2.

If you bet $3 and pay $1.

After splitting Aces, players may hit or double down.

Strategy Considerations

Hard 13 through 16: Stand against 2 through 6; hit against 7 or higher.

Soft 17: Double against 3, 4, 5 or 6; otherwise, hit.
