The Tie bet is almost always 8 to 1, which is of course terrible value and should be avoided.

No system or strategy has ever been found that will overcome the built-in house advantage.

And you will still have funds to do just that.

Gambling has been intertwined in Dutch culture for centuries.

By the early 1900s, there was a complete ban on sports betting and all other gambling activity, apart from the state lottery.

This was in place until 1961, when sports betting in the Netherlands was legalised as a second state monopoly.

To regulate all gambling within the country, the Netherlands Gaming Control Board was formed in 1996.

Beginning in 2015, legislation began circulating that would legalise online betting in the Netherlands, with the goal of moving players away from other European betting sites and into a regulated local market.

However, it took time for Dutch authorities to actually open the regulated market.

But due to delays – in part because of the COVID-19 pandemic – the law didn't come into effect until March 2021.

That allowed the first regulated Dutch betting sites to open their virtual doors on 1 October 2021.
